Sangmeister Takes JP Race, Town Incumbents Win

In a vote battle Tuesday (April 4) that was marked by a variety of ballots and different election set-ups the people of Frankfort and New Lenox townships returned their incumbent town office holders to office and helped name George E. Sangmeister, of Mokena and Frankfort as a justice of the peace in the Will county second district.

Mokena residents also joined with others in the park district bearing its name in re-electing Russell Lauffer, this time for a full six year term.

Incumbents were returned to office in both townships. Only one contest appeared on the ballot in Frankfort township. Bernard Schram, who operates the barbershop at Frankfort, was re-elected collector by a margin of 299 votes over Robert Dean, owner and operator of the Dean Pharmacy.

George J. Tate, incumbent was named supervisor.

Harold Cooper, Mokena, was re-elected town clerk and Harold A. Smith, assessor. Chosen for town auditors are: August Werner, Mokena, Adam J. Heuser, of Frankfort and Roy H. Koerner.

Elected at New Lenox were: Roy Minger, clerk, unopposed incumbent; George R. Marshall, assessor who was opposed by Domenic Rini; Edward A. Osmus, who defeated Donald C. Hansen for collector; the three town auditors, Billy E. Van Cleave, William Loucks, and Worth W. Merritt. Joseph C. Szawars was defeated in the race for auditor, Fred H. Scheel and Jane K. Anderson were elected as library directors.

Frankfort. This was his first venture into politics as a candidate.

He finished with a total vote of 10,805. Robert Buchar, (D) had 11,288 and Anthony Mackay (R) incumbent 12,300 votes. George William (R) incumbent, with 10,566 votes was fourth; William Bossingham was fifth with 10,364 votes and B.B. Geuther fifth, with a vote of 10,183.

Sangmeister went to bed at 4 a.m. but got up in time to get an early train for Chicago. He is in the legal department of Standard Oil Co. there.

The vote in Frankfort township for the town officer was: for supervisor, Tate, 1,253; for clerk, Cooper, 1,263; for collector, Schram, 921, Dean, 622; assessor, Smith, 1,236; for auditor, Werner, 1,219; Heuser, 1,221; Koerner, 1,233.

Burglars Make $1,200 Haul At Frankfort

Burglars who knew what they wanted entered the Sangmeister Electric Store on Kansas Street, Frankfort sometime after midnight Monday. Merchandise valued at about $1,200 and $35 in cash was taken.

Owner, George Sangmeister Sr. said the culprits seemed to be primarily interested in radios. Every radio in the store including used sets, were taken.

Three television sets were also included in the loot, but other merchandise of value was ignored.

Entry was made by forcing a door, but the merchandise was apparently loaded thru the rear entrance. Tire tracks at the rear of the store indicated that a station wagon or a light pick-up truck was used for transporting the stolen goods.

Bond Election Main Topic At School Board Meeting

Discussion of the coming bond referendum Saturday was the topic Monday night at the Frankfort grade school board meeting at the school.

Frankfort voters will be asked to approve a referendum for funds to build a five room addition to the present school. Architect William J. Scheidmantel of Downers Grove has submitted an exterior design and floor plan to board members which received the approval of the board at its March meeting.

The addition will consist of a kindergarten room, three classrooms and a large multipurpose room which could be divided into two classrooms at a later date.

Board Member Leonard Patterson said he hoped the voters would realize the need for the expansion and approve the bond issue at this first referendum.

Said Patterson, "We need the room and if voters don't ap-

Mokena Water Supply Has Interruption

Mokena residents were without water for about an hour last Wednesday afternoon, causing some housewives to become irritated, especially those whose tasks depended upon a constant water supply.

Village officials expressed regret over the incident but pointed out it was one of those things that was unavoidable under the circumstances.

The village was having some new water mains installed. A new valve was being put in at Midland ave. and First st. There were two shut-off valves at the intersection. Had they been in operation only a small area would have been cut off from a supply of water but corrosion had taken its toll and the valves couldn't be operated. It became necessary then to shut off the entire supply. It was pointed out that this story is not particularly new in municipalities but is heard frequently.

Crews directed by Blaine Saxton who has the contract for the water extension, pushed work on the project and service was restored within an hour, in time for the preparation of suppers.

Oakview School To Get New "Dressed Up" Look

With construction of the new addition now completed at Oakview school in New Lenox, many improvements to "dress up" the property were discussed and outlined Monday night when the New Lenox school board met.

First on the list of improvements was the seeding of the front yard and the landscaping of the property. It was decided to remove the ball diamond from its present location and move it to the rear of the school which has been cleared of trees.

John Oster, principal of Oakview, was asked to get some figures on the cost of graveling or surfacing the rear area at the school so that it can be used for parking facilities when activities are in progress in the new auditorium.

Michael Kruk, principal at Haven school, reported that about 50 cars is an average for visitors at the school during an event. Therefore it will be necessary to allow parking area for a minimum of 50 cars at the rear. It was suggested that Joseph Wozniak, Joliet's traffic engineer, be contracted for further information in laying out a parking area.

At the next meeting of the school board, the board's attorney, Charles McKeown, and the attorney for the Fidelity and Deposit Co. of Maryland, who held the bonds on the Oakview construction work, will meet with board members to complete the business involving the default of the first contractor and the $100 a day penalty imposed because of the default.

Oster reported on work contracts which were let last week and are now completed. Meyer-

Area Voters To Elect School Board Members This Saturday

Voters in the several school districts of the area will go to the polls Saturday to choose board members and directors.

Frankfort voters also will ballot on a proposed $145,000 bond issue to meet the cost of an addition needed to meet a growing enrollment.

No contests are scheduled in the Lincoln-Way high school, and the New Lenox and Mokena grade school board elections. There will be contests, however, for the two places to be filled on the Frankfort and Ann Rutledge boards.

In the districts where the schools are served by seven-member boards—Lincoln-Way, Mokena, Frankfort, New Lenox, Homer Consolidated and Ann Rutledge, the polling places will open at 12 noon and close at 7 p.m.

In the village schools the schools themselves will serve as polling places and the same is true of Homer and Ann Rutledge. Rutledge, Mokena, Frankfort, Haven school at New Lenox, and the Manhattan grade school also serve as polling places for the Lincoln-Way high school election.

The smaller districts, in which directors are named, the candidates are chosen as caucuses preceding the hours of election. The time of such caucuses and the voting hours vary according to the districts.

In Frankfort the terms of Vernon W. Hansen and W. Leonard Patterson expire this month. Both are candidates for re-election. Also running are Dr. Otto J. Novota and Ralph E. Nieland, who is connected with a firm manufacturing electrical equipment.

In the Ann Rutledge district, which encompasses Lincoln Estates, two board members are to be chosen. The two whose terms expire, George Kaehler and Frank Kovar, are not candidates for re-election. Mr. Kaehler has served on the board of the Ann Rutledge for the past 11 years; Kovar has been a board member for seven years. Kaehler also is serving as clerk of the board.

There are five candidates for the two places, Larry Vaughn, Howard Bluth, Sam Briggs, William Frankenberg and Erdic Dickens.

A contest is also scheduled in Dist. 33-C, Homer township. There are three candidates for the two places, Ralph Reiter Jr., incumbent, Jack Jordan and Vernon O. Bond. The other board member whose term expires this spring is Russell Lauffer, who chose not to seek re-election.

In the Mokena grade school election three are to be elected and the candidates are the three members whose terms expire this month, Norval Robinson Durward Fant and James Stewart.

Three also are to be elected to the New Lenox grade school board and the three running are all incumbents, Evans Drotts, J.

Radio Relay Set-Up Working At Frankfort

The transmitter located in the village hall at Frankfort for relaying messages to the schools of the county in the event of impending disaster, either natural or man made, is now in operation.

The antenna used in relaying messages sent out from the office of County Superintendent of School Verne E. Crackel, is mounted on top of the village water tower and transmits from this point, said to be the highest in the county, reaches all parts of the area.

The receivers used in the schools are purchased on a 50-50 basis, the school district and the federal government each paying a half of the $202 price. It is a part of the CD program.

Supt. Crackel said there were 28 receivers now in operation and he believes that eventually every school in the county will be so equipped.

There is a small room in the Frankfort village hall that is filled with radio equipment. The room and use of the tower was donated by the village.

Blank Checks Are Dangerous

Governor Kerner and Mayor Dailey of Chicago are both backing a move for an amendment to the revenue article of the Illinois constitution which would give the legislature a blank check so far as writing tax laws is concerned.

With the governor and the Chicago mayor behind such action there is little doubt but that sufficient votes will be found to have such an amendment submitted to the voters at the general election in November, 1962.

The question which should be given consideration by Illinois residents is whether such influence can wangle enough votes to get the amendment adopted.

So far the Illinois voters have resisted all efforts to adopt any change in the revenue article and it is out fervent hope they will do so again.

There is no doubt but that some pressure groups will rally to the support of the movement and one can expect party hacks to follow the bosses orders because more ways of getting revenue for political subdivisions means more jobs and more jobs mean more power. It is likely that quite a number of legislators will look favorably on the proposal because having a free hand to write tax laws could be better than a license to steal.

There are groups in the state that are on record as favoring enactment of a state income tax law and we would expect that given a free hand at writing revenue laws the assembly might be pressured into adopting one, altho it might be under a different name.

We believe the amendment now under discussion—if adopted—would give the legislature too much power.

And one thing you could bet on is that such an amendment would not ease the tax burden.

Most of the taxing bodies are up to their limits now and some of them are operating in the red. If they find an opportunity get more money you may be sure they will take advantage of it, and without relinquishing any of the means they now employ. It is a certainty that they will not try to operate on less money if they see a way to get more.

What is needed is more economy in government so we have less taxes than an increase in government expenditures and more taxes. If we keep on, the time will come when the payment of taxes could reach the point of no return. Should that occur we will become a totalitarian state.

We can spend our way into a dictatorship so let's watch it.

On Second Thought

By GLENN F. LOGAN

This is a good time of the year to travel—if one doesn't go to extremes. Don't go too far north, nor too far south. The east may be a bit on the snarly side yet but the upper south and the west are usually pleasant about now.

Of course, one can expect a blizzard or so out Nebraska way but if you are heading west you can always duck down along the southern route.

The upper south is usually nice in April. They still have spring there. The grass and trees are green, flowers in bloom . . . and it is not unusual to see kids in swimming.

Traffic isn't so heavy now—not like it will be later and one should get an excellent choice of accommodations.

Traveling in the south is fine for some people. . . the people who never drink coffee, if you haven't been in the south and you like your coffee then take a can of your favorite brand with you. Take a coffee pot too so you can roll your own. But don't make a big production out of it.

This is the centennial anniversary of the War Between the States and the South will be filled with tourists, visiting battlefields and tracing the routes of armies and raiders. The War has never been too far back, as far as the South is concerned, probably because it was fought in the South, and then there was Reconstruction. The South knows it didn't win but it doesn't appreciate people from the North rubbing it in.

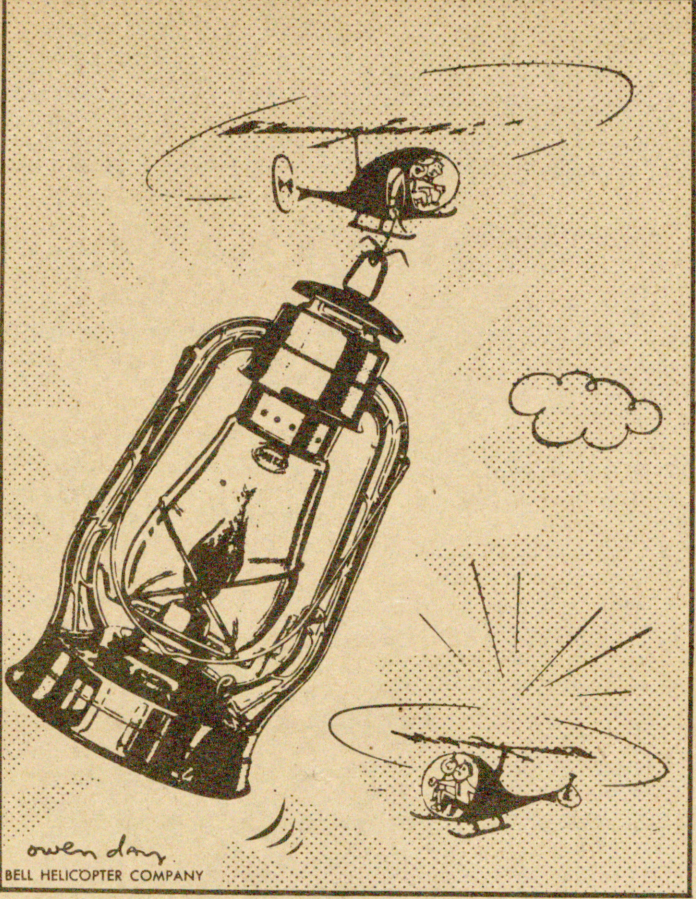

The trouble with so many of us from the North when traveling about the South is our condescending manner and lack of tact.

We tell our Southern neighbors many things that do not endear us. Your coffee is terrible, we say . . . how can you expect anyone to drink it . . . how can you drink it yourselves? . . . You would have a nice thing here if you worked at it . . . trouble with you folks is that you're lazy . . . you certainly poke along . . . how behind the times you are . . . now up North we do it this way . . . now I'll tell you what you should do with this segregation, there really isn't any problem at all . . . why don't you forget about the Civil War . . . you got whipped, didn't you so why don't you keep still.

It is surprising how well the Southern people do keep still . . . perhaps it would be better if they told off their visitors instead of allowing resentment to smolder.

There is one thing about it, however, and that is the Northerners who take the South to task are paying for it. They may not realize it but they are paying, in tax dollars as well as tourist dollars.

COPTER CARTOON by owen day

"How old-fashioned can you be about night-flying?"

The South's big counter-offensive weapon, of course, are the Texans that are loosed against the North. Their boasts can become rather tiresome too.

Traveling about the country can be instructive as well as entertaining, especially if one talks less and listens more.

It is a good thing to obey the traffic signs. States as well as localities within states have different laws governing motor vehicles. One may not approve of them, one may not like them but it is best to obey them.

Will save you time -- and money too.

Hints For Homeowners

by: JAMES FIZZEL, ASS'T. FARM ADVISER

Ambitious home owners who are establishing new lawns this spring can avoid future headaches, or backaches, if they start their lawns properly.

To get lawns off to a flying start, (1) seed as early as possible, (2) sow seed adapted to present conditions and (3) prepare the seedbed properly.

Seed at proper time. Although September is the best time to plant new lawns, it is often necessary to sow in spring.

Wet soil often delays spring sowing so that a thick sod cannot develop before weeds pop up. This results in a weedy lawn the first summer, but is far better than having mud all year. With the new chemicals available now, weeds can be killed anytime.

Sow seed adapted to location. Location usually determines which grass to grow. A grass that grows well in a moist, heavy soil may not survive in a dry, sandy soil. The following grasses are suitable to Illinois: Kentucky or Merion bluegrass, creeping red fescue, bent grass and velvet bent.

A mixture of grass seed usually produces a satisfactory stand more quickly than a single species.

Prepare the seedbed. (These steps should be taken for planting either temporary or permanent grasses).

1. After smoothing the area, apply organic matter and fertilizer. Use 10 pounds of a 10-8-6 analysis fertilizer for every 1,000 square feet.

For organic matter, apply 500 to 1,000 pounds of manure per 1,000 square feet. Or spread 1/2 inch of peat or 1 inch of sludge over the surface.

Organic matter improves the structure of soils.

2. Plow or rototill soil to a six-inch depth. Do not work soil when it is wet.

3. Apply grub-proofing materials. Use 1/4 pound of actual chlordane per 1000 square feet.

or 10 pounds of lead arsenate. Grubs cause lawn failures by eating the roots of grasses.

4. Disk the soil six inches deep.

5. Rake or disk starter fertilizer into the upper two inches of soil. Apply 10 more pounds of 10-8-6 or a fertilizer of similar analysis to every 1,000 square feet of lawn.

6. Rake. To smooth the soil and break all lumps or remove them from the seedbed.

7. Seed. As a general rule, apply 2-3 pounds of seed for every 1,000 square feet. It's easiest to get complete coverage and uniform distribution of seed with a mechanical seed spreader.

If you sow by hand, divide the area into four sections with string. Then divide the seed into eight equal parts. Sow two parts to each section. Sow one part in an east-west direction and the other in a north-south direction. Do not sow on a windy day.

8. Rake lightly to cover the seed.

9. Roll. Rolling firms the seed into the soil and stabilizes the seedbed so that it can be mowed without leaving tracks. Use a roller that weighs not over 100 pounds per foot of width.

10. Mulch slopes. Burlap or straw will keep soil from washing.

11. Water lightly. Be careful when watering a newly seeded lawn. Use a fine spray, or the seed will wash into low pockets and an uneven stand will develop. Water as often as necessary, soaking only the upper one inch of soil. After the seed germinates, increase the amount of water, but decrease the frequency of watering.

Business & Finance

by MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The availability of statistical information in our business life, has given the student of finance the tools to more closely study any changes taking place in the manner in which incomes are being spent. It should be remembered that it is only in recent years that the breakdown of personal spending and corporate spending, has been broken down for such study. It should also be remembered that it is only in recent years that the role of investment analyst has been raised to professional grade thru formal training. It is not so many years ago that in a general way, investment research meant going over published figures without much background as to financial health of the industry under scrutiny and comparison with other industries and also firms within that industry.

A recent study of the philosophy of investment during this decade, has produced interesting results. Income has become widely distributed. Important reasons for this development are legislation on taxation and minimum wages, the rising level of education and work skills, and greater interest by business in human resources. Today, two of three families have annual incomes of $4000 or more compared to one of two families five years ago and only one in three at the close of World War II. In constant 1954 dollars, disposable personal income grew at a compound rate of 3.6 per cent in the eleven years thru 1959.

Discretionary income (personal income less income taxes and necessary living expenses) has increased eight times in last 15 years as against a five fold increase in personal income before taxes. This is due to fact that necessary living expenses remain relatively unchanged whereas spendable income has been rising steadily. The added income is therefore available for discretionary spending. The study points out that somewhat over half of total personal income is now freed for products people desire rather than what they must have. Wide range is therefore given as to individual choice as to spending on different types of products and different brands of the same product type. There is a shorter time period for public acceptance of new products with result that advertising and alert merchandising have become vital.

As personal consumption expenditures are two thirds of the gross national product, the national personal income, which is the dollar sum of income received from all sources, is fundamental to the health and direction of the economy and its various segments. This factor will have more impact on the economy than many more publicized yardsticks. The study queries whether special status desire reflected in automobile ownership may not be being replaced somewhat with home appliances, etc. with the greater leisure time available thru shorter hours. Population trends, rising discretionary income, improving standards of living, increasing old age benefits, more leisure time, are more favorably affecting drugs, cosmetics, food and beverage, amusements, photographs and publishing areas than they are appliance and automobiles where there is abundance and practical saturation.

During the recent slow down in business, those industries catering to more leisure time, etc. were least affected by general business lag.

Farm and Home Festival will be held on the College of Agriculture campus at the University of Illinois April 6, 7 and 8.

This festival has taken on new proportions since it was announced today that The Honorable Orville L. Freeman, secretary of agriculture, will give the principal address at the general session of the festival at 3 p.m., Thursday, April 6. This should provide farmers in Illinois an opportunity to get a first-hand understanding of the philosophies of Secretary Freeman.

It was my pleasure to appear on the program of the Methodist Mens' club of Chicago Heights last week. Floyd Adair, Chicago Heights, arranged for me to be on their program. The program dealt with agriculture and the devotional portion of their meeting dealt with soil conservation. The Soil Conservation District sponsored film, "The Earth is the Lord's", was shown. This is an excellent film for groups of this type and arrangements for its use can be made through this office.

4-H Club members using the new record books are urged to complete the section entitled "My Permanent 4-H Record", back to the first year in which they were enrolled as a 4-H member. This will be very important at the end of the year when the books are being evaluated by leaders and the county 4-H committee.

Camp reservations are coming in rapidly. Any 4-H member desiring to attend camp should make application right away. Reservations will close April 28. 4-H'ers from this county will be camping at Shaw-Waw-Nas-See, July 26-30.

Farmers sometimes discover that their machinery and labor resources are larger than their farming operations require. Adding acres to the present farm unit will help solve this problem. But farm expansion or consolidation is possible only as other farms become available for sale or rent. Also, reorganizing the farm business to include large crop acreages often leaves the operator as unemployed during the winter months as he was before. This results largely from the historic emphasis on cash-grain farming with little, if any, livestock.

It is not too late to prepare a budget of income and expense for your farm for 1961. Good farm records can make planning and budgeting more accurate and easier. This is a must for farm operators to establish a good basis for credit. More farmers are using and needing credit.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turbochrome.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

Outline Spring Concert Plans For Music Parents

The Music Parents Association meeting held at Carl Sandburg High school on Monday evening, March 27, was conducted by F. H. Wiley of Palos Heights, president of the organization. Reports were given by the secretary, treasurer and committee chairman.

Mrs. Mary E. Pettyjohn, choral teacher and director, related some of the details about the Spring concert which is to be presented by the choral department on Sunday afternoon (3:00 p.m.), April 9, at the high school. She and her students are delighted that the new piano arrived in time for the concert, and in behalf of the Music Department, she thanked Music Parents for it.

Milton L. Potter, band teacher and director, spoke about the new bassoon and Conn Stroboson which were also purchased with Music Parents funds. The bassoon is like the one purchased last year. He displayed the Stroboson and showed how it operates. Both the choral and band students will be using it in their work. In behalf of the Music Department, he thanked Music Parents for both items.

Mrs. Pettyjohn and M. L. Potter reported on the Southwest Suburban Conference Music Festival held at Homewood-Flossmoor on March 9 and 10. The choral and band students selected to participate enjoyed the Festival and gained much from working with the guest directors. Many people from the Sandburg area were in the capacity audience which assembled on the evening of March 10 for the presentation of the Festival concert.

The District solo and ensemble contest is scheduled for Saturday, April 15, at Thornton-Fractional High school.

Adult drivers will be needed to transport the participating students. If available, contact the Music Department faculty. The Sandburg contestants are to present their numbers in a recital on Thursday evening, April 13, at 7:30 p.m., in the Little Theater at Sandburg. The Girl's Cadet Choir will also sing. The recital is open to the public, friends and relatives, at no charge.

Further arrangements were discussed in regard to the concert the Luther College Concert Band of Decorah, Iowa, is to present at Sandburg on Monday, May 29, at 8:15 p.m.

Sumner Scherubel of Palos Heights, general chairman of the Luther concert, gave a short resume about Luther college, Luther band and Director Weston H. Noble. Tickets for the Luther concert will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students. Well over a hundred advance reservations have been requested since the first announcement by Music Parents early last fall.

Mrs. James Jankun of Palos Heights, Herman H. Conrady of Hickory Hills and Spencer Lee of Palos Park were appointed the nominating committee. They are to present names of candidates for new officers at the next meeting, April 24, when election of officers for the coming year is to be held.

The program for the evening, arranged by V. A. Mortenson, certainly was a good demonstration of the new piano. Miss Sandra Mayhall played a trombone solo, "Thoughts of Love" by Arthur Pryer, accompanied by Miss Kathy Mortenson at the piano. The girls, 1960 graduates of Sandburg now attending Coe College, are home on Easter vacation. Miss Marilyn Linderoth, a senior at Sandburg and accompanist for the choral department, played a piano solo, Brahms' "Intermezzo". Remarkable aptitude was shown by their splendid performance.

At the social hour in keeping with spring and Easter, delectable refreshments were served by Mrs. Joseph Yurtis and her committee who had prepared the beautifully decorated table.

Gen. Jan Christian Smuts was a famous general in the war against England, and later became a great colonial statesman for England.

Heligoland, an island in the North Sea, was bought by Germany from England before the First World War and turned into an immense fortification and naval base.

Professor To Confer On L-W English Course

Dr. Oppenheimer from the University of Chicago will visit Lincoln-Way Community High School to discuss curriculum possibilities with the English Department.

The basic discussion will center about a new grouping process for English classes. The possibility that might emerge from the conference is called "interest grouping".

If instituted, this would modify the present ability grouping carried out by the Lincoln-Way English department.

Members of the English staff and the executive board of Lincoln-Way will meet with Dr. Oppenheimer to consider the merits of "interest grouping".

Vandals Break In Homer School; Ransack Rooms

Due to the recent resignation of Rev. Elvig as pastor of Homer church, Rev. H. M. Finley filled the pulpit on Maundy Thursday evening and Easter morning. On Sunday, April 9, it is expected that Rev. Pruter who heads the Central Assn. of Congregational Churches, and who has spoken here before, will preach. On April 16, the committee hopes to have a candidate for the position.

The Wayside Workers Circle of King's Daughters will meet at the church today (Thursday) with Mrs. Edna Mergler as hostess. Plans will be completed for going to the Salad Luncheon at Central Presbyterian Church on April 11. The luncheon is a benefit for the Hannah Harwood Girls' Club in Joliet. Also, on the same day, there will be a school for Vacation Bible School teachers at this same church. Persons wishing to attend the school should make a luncheon reservation with one of the King's Daughters.

Mrs. Don Aspel and children spent the Easter weekend with her mother at Wyand.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Reed entertained at a family dinner in their home on Easter.

Mr. and Mrs. George Welter entertained their children and grandchildren at dinner on Easter Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Burnworth spent Easter with his mother at Sidel, Ill.

Mrs. Robert Shepherd Jr., has returned to her home after several days in Silver Cross Hospital for medical treatment. She is much better.

Charles White, 151st St., who has been in poor health for some time, was removed to Silver Cross Hospital Friday morning.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Carol A. Jungles is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jungles, 159th St., Homer.

The ceremony uniting Miss Jungles and Richard J. Mates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mates of Crystal Lake, will take place at 11 a.m., April 29, at St. Michael's Church in Orland Park, with the Rev. Michael Broniec officiating. A small reception will be held at White Fence Farm. Invitations for the wedding and reception will be issued.

Both young people are graduates of Lockport Twp. High School.

Doug Carlson was detained from school by illness for several days during the past two weeks.

Jerry Paddock missed school a few days last week because of illness.

Tom Shepherd was confirmed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Lockport on Palm Sunday. The George Burcham family went to Chicago last Sunday to attend a confirmation dinner in honor of a nephew.

The school building at 33-C was broken into and ransacked recently but no money was taken. It is thought the vandals were looking for Red Cross money which had been removed from the school before the depredation.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Warren are the parents of a girl born at Silver Cross Hospital on March 19.

Number Of Sewer Users In Frankfort Are Increasing

There are 391 sewer and water users now in Frankfort and the number is expected to increase, it was brought out at the meeting of the village board Monday night.

Not all of these have completed their sewer connections yet, although they are paying sewer rates because the stubs branching off the mains to approximately the property line are available and it was decided by the board several months ago that when it was possible to make connection with the sewer the property owner would be billed for its use.

It is expected, officials said, that this spring will see most of the connections made. Those who delay too long, however, may face additional penalties, it was indicated by the board, possibly in the form of substantial tap on fees.

The village board accepted the report of the zoning board of appeals approving reclassification of the site of the former William Kampe home from R-1 to R-3, which will permit Olden and Jones, contractors, to remodel the residence into a three-apartment building.

Plans for the steel building planned by the Elcon Co. at Frankfort were approved by the village engineer, Robert Hamilton as conforming to provisions of the National Building Code and the requirements of the American Institute of Steel Construction.

The village plans to hire two or three men to clear out ditches and trim trees and otherwise assist in a spring clean-up.

As a part of its arterial street program, the board has adopted a resolution designating two more streets, that part of Nebraska street from Center to Evergreen Drive and Evergreen Drive from Nebraska to LaPorte road. The total distance for both is 1,650 feet.

The board is giving consideration to the purchase of a mobile combination siren and public address system which would serve primarily for the civil defense program but could also be utilized by the village in the event of disasters.

Robert Porter, civil defense director, recommended purchase of the device on a matching fund basis. The device would cost about $240. If the CD pays half the village's share would be approximately $120.

The board instructed Porter to ascertain if the civil defense authorities contribute to the cost. The speaker is a powerful one. The device was demonstrated to the board by Joseph Smythe, of the Joliet Electric Supply company.

Old Landmark Is Torn Down

The old Michigan Central depot in Frankfort, a landmark since its construction sometime in the last century, is gone from its familiar location.

Michigan Central, a part of the New York Central line, demolished the building at the request of the Frankfort village officials.

According to Mayor George Sangmeister, the railroad decided to close the depot and remove the agent a little more than a year ago. The structure stood vacant while railroad officials attempted to sell it, but to no avail.

According to Mayor Sangmeister, the structure became an eyesore since the railroad was executing no maintenance on the building and it was also considered hazardous.

The village made the request that the building be razed and railroad crews demolished it and burned the debris. There are no immediate plans for the site, Sangmeister said.

Wieland-Kovar Nuptials Read In Church Ceremony

Miss Marianne Wieland and Richard Kovar both of Frankfort were united in marriage at a seven o'clock ceremony the evening of March 18 in St. Peter's United Church of Christ at Frankfort. The Rev. Erich Bizer officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wieland of Frankfort are the parents of the bride while Mrs. Leo Bartsky, also of Frankfort, is the mother of the groom.

Mixed bouquets of carnations and jonquills decorated the altar of the church. Mrs. Erich Bizer, organist, played appropriate selections during the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white nylon organza and wore a blusher veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and carnations.

Maid of Honor, Miss Joyce Bispig was attired in an aqua nylon organza gown with a lace overskirt. A colonial bouquet of yellow carnations completed her outfit.

Herbert Folkers Jr. served the groom as best man and Jerry Kovar, brother of the groom, was usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wieland chose a green print silk dress with white accessories; the groom's mother wore a blue dress with matching accessories. Both mothers wore a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors to which 140 guests attended.

After a short trip to the south the newlyweds are now at home at 62 Bryan road, Mokena.

The bride is a graduate of Peotone high school and the groom completed high school at Lincoln-Way. The groom is associated with the Coover-Ford Show Co. at Frankfort and Mrs. Kovar is an employee at Welsch Lumber company at Mokena.

C. Of C. Purchases Ladders For Fire Dept.

A "visiting fireman," Chief Carroll Roberts, rang an alarm with a speech at the regular meeting of the Mokena Chamber of Commerce March 28 that resulted in unexpected results. The group presented Roberts with a check for $180 and promised to support the fire department's pinocle tournament and dance of April 29 and May 6, respectively.

Roberts' talk brought out the need of support from civic groups and individual citizens to forestall an increase in Mokena's property insurance rate. The chief told the members that the Mokena Community Volunteer Fire Department must raise $6,000 to bring present equipment up to date and meet the Illinois Inspection Bureau's standards. He also mentioned that the department had recently obtained a piece of fire fighting equipment, from Civil Defense, which they have made serviceable with the exception of ladders which they could secure for $180.

Charles Swanberg made a motion the Chamber donate the cost of the ladders to the fire department. Swanberg pointed-out that it was an opportunity for the Chamber to add to their present fine record of supporting local civic projects. He also suggested they revise their donation schedule to include more definitely local enterprises rather than some of the national projects to which the Chamber now contributes. "One member said: 'the original idea of contributing to the larger drives was to eliminate these organizations from making donation calls on local merchants, but it hasn't worked out that way. They get the contribution from the Chamber and then call on Chamber members and collect again.'" He added that "very little of the money remains in or returns to the village."

Roberts was due for another surprise. He was appointed to the Chamber's civic improvement committee. In making the appointment, Will Tuttle, president, said that "the officers and board of directors selected Roberts because of his untiring devotion to civic affairs and his knowledge of local needs."

Couple Taps Store Till; Takes $105

Two negroes, a man and a woman, took $105 from the cash register of Braun Sales, Lincolnway shopping center, New Lenox, on Tuesday of last week and then drove off in a two-tone 1952 Buick. They left in an easterly direction.

It was the man who actually opened the cash register and abstracted the money, investigators said. The woman went to the opposite side of the store and remained near the front while discussing merchandise with a clerk, thus keeping her attention concentrated on that part of the store.

The theft occurred between 3:45 and 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The couple entered about 3:45, it was recalled. The woman went to the east side of the store and began looking at ceramics. The man went down the west aisle to a rear counter where the cash register was located.

He left the store first and was quickly followed by the woman after she purchased a package of envelopes. When she got outside the woman ran to the car in which her companion was seated at the wheel, witnesses said, and the car was driven off rapidly.

The money had been in the register before the couple entered the store, the report states, and it was found to be missing just after they left.

The man was described as being six feet or more tall. His skin was quite dark, according to witnesses and he wore a black hat, a black suit and a black trench coat. The woman described as being five feet six inches tall and was wearing a light colored three-quarters coat and a green skirt with black stripes.

Stress Early Registration For 'Y' Camp

Youngsters in the Palos-Orland YMCA area are beginning to daydream of those fun-filled days at camp with the announcement of the 1961 Camp Channing schedule, which will be June 17-July 1st. Early registration is recommended so that youngsters will be assured of a place at camp this summer.

"This year, as in the past, the youngsters will spend plenty of time in the woods hiking and in the lake swimming," said John Allyn, chairman of the Palos-Orland "Y" camp committee. He pointed out that over 500 young people would attend the camp throughout the six periods this summer.

Camp Channing offers swimming, archery, handicrafts and a host of other activities. An expert staff is already recruited for the season. "The YMCA camp director, Henry Waschow, is a professional at scheduling events for active boys", Allyn said. "Sometimes an idle camper can come down with a bad case of homesickness and miss out on all the fun that camping holds," he commented.

The YMCA camp is located near Pullman, Michigan and is operated by the Division Street YMCA. It has served over 15,000 youngsters since it opened. Accredited by the American Camping Association, Camp Channing is staffed by 10 trained counselors and 8 counselors-in-training.

"Although we stress activity at Camp Channing, there must be some time allowed for that moment of quiet reverie that is so important to a youngster," said Waschow, camp director. He commented that a short period of relaxation from the day's activities and learning are important to the camper. "The time spent at these daydreamings will give a boy or girl the opportunity to sort out the day's experiences," Waschow concluded.

Campers may register at the Palos-Orland "Y" office in the Jewel Annex at 123rd & Harlem. "Early Bird" registrants who enroll by May 15th will be given a Camp Channing sweat shirt.

Hit By Police

Auto; Sues

(CNS) Ignatius and Alva Mazur, 14513 Minerva, Dolton, filed suit for $10,000 each against the village of Dolton and Policeman Harold L. Petersen for injuries received when they were struck by a police car July 30, 1960. The suit, filed in Circuit court, says Policeman Petersen was driving without siren or horn when they collided at Sibley blvd. and Greenwood.

Sues City To

Get Permits

For Flats

(CNS) Suit for declaratory judgment against the City of Chicago Heights, Mayor Charles J. Grupp, Jr., and four councilmen to permit multiple dwellings on six parcels of vacant property in the 15th street and Donovan drive area, now zoned for 2-family residences, was filed in Superior court last week.

The intention of the plaintiff, Pacific Land company, owner of the parcels, is to build not over four-unit apartments, the suit states. Defendants have announced they will compel not over two-family use but on other occasions they have amended the zoning and allowed multiple dwellings, it is alleged.

The suit asserts there is a housing shortage in Chicago Heights and that except for a small area there is no multiple dwelling zoning. This is alleged to be unconstitutional.

Attorney Seymour Keith filed the suit.
